- Anytime, anywhere access to information, promoting collaboration
- Real-time access to instant messaging, email, and network resources
- Modular architecture supporting 802.11ac Wave 2, 802.11ac, 802.11n, 802.11a/b/g
- Enterprise indoor/outdoor wireless mesh, ensuring a smooth migration path to future technologies and services

Epoch Universal implements industry design practices to ensure new or existing wireless infrastructures are optimal and your unique business goals are achieved.

This includes:

- BYOD – ‘Bring Your Own Device’ – Multiple Needs and Multiple Devices in the workplace is a current mega-trend which requires a comprehensive architecture to improve overall efficiency and productivity
- Wireless Security – to ensure the integrity of the Enterprise, a comprehensive layered approach is critical; authentication/authorization, network segregation (physical/virtual), and services/technologies such as WIPS and Cisco ISE implementations are vital
- Location Services – track, manage, locate devices or items on your wireless infrastructure to ensure visibility and accountability of sensitive items/networks
- Voice over Wireless – extend your voice capabilities to locations where running physical cables is either not possible or cost prohibitive

The Epoch Way is a powerful solution delivering business-class connectivity, enabling innovative applications to streamline business operations and improve productivity the Right Way.
